FRIDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1891.

Having spent a night in darkness, the residents of "Old Spain" place a higher value than ever upon the electric lights.

The report of the fortieth anniversary of a certain church leads us to ponder upon the proper functions of a church. The report shows that there are nine little wheels within the big wheel, and that there is scarcely anything in the field of indoor and outdoor pastime and recreation for which there is not a special or standing committee.

The question naturally arises, can a church carry on a theatre, gymnasium, etc., without injuring its proper status as a spiritual and moral guide?

Chance for Reform.

We command the "Boy's Club" of New-Hamilton to the ladies in Weymouth. For more real down-right blood-curdling profanity this is from the mouths of fiends ten feet from ten years of age than from all the rest of the town besides.

Rapid Transit.

Pitch dark, pouring rain, slippery track and 56-84 miles an hour, is that not said of the new train to New York from New York to Washington last Saturday night.

This speaks well for the train as a record breaker, but how would it have been had there been a wash-out or land-slide?

There is something peculiarly fascinating about this rapid transit business as everyone wants to "get there" and that too in the shortest possible time.

An Interesting Report.

The annual report of Secretary of the Interior affords a very interesting study.

Of the 250,000 Indians who are wards of the nation, 16,000 have become citizens within the year and will become factors in the politics of the territories and new states.

The pension office is disposed of about a thousand cases a day, and by 1894 the docket will be considerably cleared. It is thought the maximum amount will then have been reached which will be about $145,000,000 per annum.

The secretary thinks the Mormon question is practically settled. Plural marriages have been abandoned and there is a good outlook for the state, the state having made a loan of over $16,000,000 in valuation for the past year.

For Alaska speaks well for herself, having exported $7,000,000 in excess of the imports for the year, and the natives are making great progress in American civilization.

Pensions — A Deduction or Not?

Are the present pension laws degrading to patriotism? Is it a wrong principle whereby the pension roll continues after thirty-five years from the close of the war to insure a pension to men who have come into existence and themselves secured vast fortunes by adding thousands of names to the roll of pensioners? This question is taken up in a December Forum by Lieut. Allen R. Foote, a veteran volunteer and a pensioner, who appeals to his comrades in the service to consider the fact that the degradation of character by a pension system that implies pauperism in the pensioners and rests on the supposition that the volunteers sold their patriotism. Lieut. Foote by his volunteer service through the whole war has earned the right to speak. He is the author of the article of Loyalty which was originally destined to protest against the present system and to effect a change in the present law.

This protest by an old soldier of honorable record who regards the present system as degrading and appeals to his comrades to wage another war, requiring a higher courage, is a strong argument in favor of the degradation of veterans and the cheapening of patriotism—is sure to provoke great discussion. It is announced by The Forum that it will be followed by other articles on the same subject.

A New Year.

One of the outcomes of the recent National and International temperance rally in Boston has been the formation of the Republican Temperance Guard.

The organization starts out with the prestige of ex-Governor John D. Long as president, and Mr. George C. Thompson, Clark and Ames as vice-presidents.

The organization proposes to work within the republican party for the better enforcement of existing temperance laws, to urge further restrictions upon the sale of intoxicants and to influence the republican party to place itself in harmony with temperance work.

Another feature of the articles of association is to influence the selection of candidates for office. They must be in sympathy with the principles of this association and worthy in every respect.

The insignia of the Guard, to be worn at the meetings of the club, is a Maltese Cross with a circle enclosing the words, "The saloon must go."

This is not to be a separate political party, but it will doubtless be the means of working a plank into the platform of the republican party once more in touch with the masses. The past two years have demonstrated that it is not safe to have either the olive or tariff question the only issues in the campaign. They are not subjects that move the people as deeply as has been thought.

Rivers of Laughter Great Merry Marshall

It has been said that Weymouth audiences are cool and not, as a rule, given to applauding, but never could more enthusiasm be shown than at the grand gathering at the Union Church. The audience was unanimous in its verdict that Mr. Wilder deserved to stay as long as he did.

Mr. Wilder's wit is unapproachable. The stories told were new and good and gained much applause from the audience. His mimicry style of the teller, it was forced to say, was not the best, but the general verdict of the house. The general verdict seems to be that for an evening's pure pleasure with piano and organ, the price of admission is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or more. Price $10 per box. For sale by A. M. Barker & Co., Weymouth; E. G. Cutler, East Weymouth.

K. of F. Grand Fair.

Beautiful weather prevailed on opening of the Fair on Wednesday evening and a packed house rewarded the efforts of the committee. The hall was prettily decorated with the mottoes of the order. The booths were also trimmed with these symbolic colors and bore the words "Fraternity, Benevolence." The tables were laden with a great abundance of useful and fancy articles, more than is usually seen at country fairs. There were three large guess cakes given by night, and a gaudy display table, two checkers, several handbags, pictures, and a great profusion of all kinds of hats, and a great number of ladies.

The tables were provided by the following ladies: Apron table, Mrs. J. S. Bacon, Mrs. William Stevens; Mrs. M. Noyes, Mrs. D. J. Jackson; Bottling table, Mrs. J. Phillips; Mrs. Jos. G. Taylor, Jr.; Mrs. Carrie Littlefield; Mrs. G. B. Parker; Mrs. G. W. Leavenworth; Mrs. H. T. Jordan; Mrs. F. B. Johnson; Fish pond; Tea table, Mrs. A. S. Newell; Miss Emily Littlefield; Mrs. G. L. Miss Emily Parker; Mrs. C. Parker; Mrs. N. Smith; Mrs. N. H. Goodspeed.

The entertainment for the first night was given by the Weymouth Chorus.

The court was presided over by H. F. Mason, the dignified judge, who rendered very decided and just decisions.

Twenty-four weighty knights were duly sworn to act as jury. The inmates of the fair were charged with having assaulted and grievously injured W. O. Collyer, a boy who had been a member of the Weymouth Chorus.

The trial was held on both sides and much fun elicited by the cross questioning of the defendant and James Flint was the prosecuting attorney.

After the trial, the defense was given the opportunity to speak.

the leg. But sometimes they get well this leg, and then will be done gone and over, and then again, no doubt in the mind of any man, eg. a plum idjif, ex to which side's comin out ahead. Now if you was will agree to stay bar and not go limpin around, we ons will send out for you ons just as soon as we strength to do. I can say when we report to your own folks, if he was maimed gobbled again, but that ain't goin to happen, unless we uns fit for the grave or you uns has a most powerful surprise."

The Confederates discussed this proposition without any enthusiasm, however, and finally agreed to stay where they were for forty-eight hours, to keep the fire burning at night and to offer no resistance to any Yankees who might approach their camp. We understood what this conclusion meant. Then, after discussion, we shook hands with them and hurried away from the fire, feeling somehow, that we had said goodbye to friends even more helpless and unfortunate than ourselves.

We came out to a treeless knoll and waited for the darkness of night. The line of the Chattahoochee was marked by camp fires. A glow marked the whereabouts of Marietta, and far to the east, from the direction of Atlanta, we saw widespread pulsations of light that flamed up and died out, and, as the sun set, the stars came the dim beginning of night. Sherman's evidently keeping guard in Atlanta. On the east of Kennesaw to the right, and Stone mountain on the direct left, signal fires burned, and we felt that the former, at least, marked the whereabouts of our friends.

At last, in the direction of the Chattahoochee we descended the hill, and at the foot of this we found a road leading in the right direction. Tough though the soles of our feet were, the ruts and stones in this road punished us cruelly, and we awaited the arrival of night with impatience. At times we stopped to listen, particularly before entering a wood, and twice we heard the distant rumble of moving trains or artillery, but it was impossible to tell the direction from which the sound came.

Judging from the stars, we must have been about 3 o'clock in the morning when we reached the bank of the Chattahoochee, and as we had been staggering with fatigue we decided to find a secluded spot in which we might get a few hours sleep. Near the river we came upon the ruin of a pretentious house, the chimney of which had fallen against the sky like monuments of desolation. Below this we found a ginhouse, in front of which was a pile of recently cut green corn, a field resting against it. We inferred that our friend had not been recompensed for his place, else the fence and the field, were missing.

Our great fatigue influenced our decision. The door of the building stood invitingly open, so we went in, and, finding on the floor with hands and feet we rolled up our stockings and lay down to sleep.

We were most generously treated by our comrades in and about Marietta, and, after we had seen the paymaster and the quartermaster could not supply us to decide to run up to Nashville to get our pay.

It was the custom of the authorities during the war to give at least thirty days leave of absence, or furlough, to all men who had escaped from the enemy, but the paymaster, including the remnant of John Morgan's old command, attacked us dark and early, in the before-breakfast place. Of course, we were not paid, but the sun wasn't up over the Alleghenies before the dullest privates had given up their paybooks.

Women are slow to comprehend. That they quickly learn, however, is true, and it is a man who discovered the one remedy for their peculiar ailments. The man was Dr. George.

That George was my "Favorite Prescription" the boor, to delineate women: "Why go round with a fool for the grave?" he said, "when there's a remedy at hand that isn't an experiment, but which is sold up and down the country?"

He was right. I am a well man now, and I can get anything. Sulphur Bitters and the like are good for me.

He was right. I am a well man now, and I can get anything. Sulphur Bitters and the like are good for me.

Steve Burbridge is hurrying to us after all that he has been through. Tom Bell brought me your letter soon as he reached this command, and I need not say, old fellow, how rejoiced was I to receive news of Bell, who followed for me from Cliffs Creek:

Women are slow to comprehend. That they quickly learn, however, is true, and it is a man who discovered the one remedy for their peculiar ailments. The man was Dr. George.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1891.

What splendid weather! Can Florida or California rival it?

After all, moonlight is better than any artificial light, even the much lauded electric.

The article on the Geology of Braintree and vicinity, printed on the first page of today's Gazette, will be found to be exceedingly interesting reading.

Those who have witnessed the beautiful sunsets that have been so frequent of late, it would seem unnecessary to go to Italy in search of fair skies and glowing sunsets.

The Park Theatre and Mr. Neil Burgess of County Fair fame give a grand reception and supper to-night to the members of the press. The dresses are elegant in invitation and expects to be represented.

Young men, wait for '92. It will be a year you, know, and the young ladies will have all the burden of the balls, parties and general entertaining upon their gracious shoulders.

Those who will be the chosen, for the girl of your heart, to propose to some timid and procrastinating lover. If you would like, seal the contract before young Leap Year waltzes in bringing with him his special privileges to the four-years compelled-to-be-sent-fair sex.

Once more the interest of the country centered in Boston. The Congress is in session and the busy whirl of the Capital's social season is in full blast.

President Harrison's message which was printed by all the daily papers on Wednesday, is an able and instructive one, although long. It should be read by all.

Reciprocity seems to be the watchword
now. We find that the state department under the direction of that progressive statesman, James G. Blaine, is arranging reciprocal treaties with Germany, France and Spain which will open great avenues of trade for this country. "Reciprocity" Blaine would sweep the country now as a special candidate.

With all that is going on in the cities around us, municipal elections and other political matters, we feel quite lonely when we think of our home quiet. Where is the Republican town committee that was to call a caucus and stir up things in December?

Boston is said to be the best theatre city in the country. She is now to have a new one in Bowdoin Square, which will make the total number ten. New Yorkers wonder how a city of less than half a million, can support so many places of amusement.
They do make take into account the half million visitors from Boston, who furnish a large portion of the theatregoers. The theatre trains running out of Boston in all directions every night—as a rule well loaded—supply the solution of the New Yorker's problem.

Ballot Reform.

With the exception of Iowa and Kansas every state in the Union went last year adopted the Australian system of voting.
Among those states distinctly classed as the "South" the only ones that have adopted the system are Tennessee and Arkansas.
Although the law in many states has been so altered that much of its effect is taken away, the general adoption of reform measures in regard to the ballot will serve for the political honesty of the people.

In the south it is evident that no general effort will be made looking toward honest elections as long as the people are confronted with the danger of negro control, and what it would mean in the present ignorant condition of that race.

It is to be Condite Hill!

It is claimed that the victory of Crisp, of Georgia, in the speakership contest means that Hill influences are on top in the Democratic party, and that it indicates that Hill's nomination is Tammany's also, and as his nomination and election.

Tammany's influence is hardly to be believed that the Democratic party will be so blind to the sentiment of the people as to court defeat by becoming the tool of the most corrupt political ring in the country. Certainly no nomination would ter-rorize the Republicans, who ought in that case to be the strongest party.

The nomination of Hill would have a most disheartening effect in the Eastern states and they would cast larger Republican majorities than ever, especially if Blaine should be the Republican standard-bearer.

"Uneasy Lies the Head That Wears a Crown."

The events of the past week show that it is hardly safe for a man to gain any power unless he can be a skillful statesman or financier. The man who is forced to become the master of his fate is a target for the bullets of those less able.

The attempted assassination of Dr. Hall; the crazy demand upon Russell Sage for a fabulous sum of money, followed by an attempt to blow up the building with its interior; the recent rebellion of the merchant of New York for $300,000,000, and with threats of annihilation in case of non-compliance with the demand; these decide that it is not safe for a man to exercise any superior facilities of genius with which he may be endowed beyond what may be required by far below him in the scale of ability.

It is not probable that these cases are the result of a concert of action according to pre-arranged plans, but rather they are spontaneous outbursts of a peculiar form of lunacy which goes by the kindred names of socialism, nihilism and anarchy.

The lesson of the case is that there is danger in indiscriminate agitation, that the doctrine of equal rights preached by ignorant men, unless properly guarded against, lead the country to anarchy and ruin.

Deafness can't be cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the disease per se, but only the symptoms. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an infestation of the eustachian tube.
When the tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling, rattling or crackling sound, and if it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and removed, the deafness will be permanent, being destroyed forever; nine out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is an indication of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness, and the same amount that we cannot be taken by taking Hill's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The Norfolk Bicycle Club in Ethiopia Bogotá.

The much advertised and long expected entertainment of the Norfolk Bicycle Club took place in Fogg's hall, Tuesday evening, when the members of the club were gathered within its walls. About 800 tickets had been sold for this evening alone, and such was still the demand for seats that the entertainment was repeated Wednesday evening before an audience about one half as large as that of the preceding evening.

The programme was long and excellent, fully deserving the title "refined negro minstrelsy." The high standing of the members of the club warranted the attendance of ladies and gentlemen from all the villages of Weymouth, and even from Boston, who were present, and were noting to which the most judicious ones could object would be heard. Nor was their expectation in vain. Although the witticisms were many and pointed, they were within legitimate bounds.

Howard H. Joy, South Weymouth's leading Thespian, officiated as interlocutor, making his advent upon the stage from a balloon.

Arthur L. Nash and Walter L. Bates were the "bones," and D. Gilbert Dearborn and Elliott C. Mitchell wielded the tambos.

Bates Torrey acted as musical director with John Vining as pianist, and a variety of overture and curtain songs; "Put on Your Sunday Clothes," Mr. Nash; "A High
Old Time," Mr. Mitchell; ballad, "The Old
Dinner Horn," Mr. D. W. Allen; songs:
"Good Bye," "Lily Jane," Mr. Dearborn;
"My God with a Conscience," Mr. Bates;
"I'm a Song and Drift," Mr. C. F. Collier;
"De Calind" 400; selections by the Norfolk Banjo and Guitar club; character sketch, "The Teacher,"
Mr. F. W. Clark; a reverie, "The Lime Kiln Band;" "Lucidation on the Question of Woman's Rights," H. H. Joy; "The Meet of the Darktown Wheel Club."

Pair of slippers won by Joseph Brown.
Number of apples contained in a barrel was 483 and E. T. Richards guessed the nearest, 490.

J. W. Phillips guessed the correct number of beans in a bottle, thereby winning an order for a pair of Edwin Clapp's glasses.
A clothes winner was W. C. Gunn.
Number of points in a game ball which contained 267 points, he guessing 237. W.
O. Colyer won the ball, he being next with 208.

Number of tooth picks in bottle, 683; the nearest guess was by R. H. Loud, who won Totman's cake with a guess of 704.

A picture given by Mrs. C. S. Vaughan was the "Bones," and W. C. Gunn won the "Golden Crown," Mr. Nash; "A High Old Time," Mr. Mitchell; ballad, "The Old
Dinner Horn," Mr. D. W. Allen; songs:
"Good Bye," "Lily Jane," Mr. Dearborn;

"My God with a Conscience," Mr. Bates;

"But?"

Bates Torrey again, Miss Mildred.

"This is no ordinary affair with me, I assure you, I am deeply, I may say intensely, in earnest. In matters of this kind I never tried."

And Mr. Marshmallow smoothed out a crease in his coat sleeve and looked smilingly at the young lady.

"But let me say, Mr. Marshmallow."

"Don't be hasty, Miss Mildred, I beg of you, I am offering an order for a pair of piano stool legs, and I am offering them at a price which is reasonable."

"What?"

Mr. Marshmallow was both surprised and delighted.

"It is possible I have heard you right, Miss Mildred."

"It is, sir. I do not know of any reason I have given you to suppose I would listen to a proposal of marriage from you."

"I do, sir, sympathetically. Farther than that, sir, will permit me to say I consider you presumptuous and forward to an unpardonable degree."

Mr. Marshmallow slowly uncrossed his legs, rose to his feet, drew himself up to his full height, took his hat, and said to the young woman, "I am offering an order for a pair of piano stool legs, and I am offering them at a price which is reasonable."

A banner was voted to Mrs. E. T. Jordan.

Amelia, the original of the girl who had the "mile-race" called, was the winner.

On a bottle containing 290 fl. 11 in. of twine, the nearest guess was by C. E.
Whitton, with 300 feet, and Woodward's cake was his.

During the last two evenings of the fair much interest was shown in a young woman in a "half-mile race" between two girls, one of whom was Emily Little, and the other, Miss Emily Litchfield, who guessed 660, the nearest, the squash containing 627 seeds.

C. E. Whitten won a combination music rack and table by guessing 177, being nearest to the number of kernels of pop corn which contained 1768.

Checkers were won by W. O. Colyer, drawn by E. W. Phillips.

ALMOST A MIRACLE!Read and Remember!

MRS. BRACKETT IS THE WIFE OF THE REV. DAVID BRACKETT, PASTOR OF THE FIRST E. BAPTIST CHURCH, OF THORNTON, MASS., AND A LADY HIGHLY ESTEEMED BY ALL WHO KNOW HER. SHE SAYS:

Brooks, Me., Oct. 22, 1890.

Gentlemen—When I commenced the use of DANAS SARASAPARILLA, I was in the grip of a bad cold, with a very tight asthma.

The shoulder joint was very tender and very stiff.

I could not sleep, and could not get my hand to my head.

I slept around my rings. My skin was yellow and rough, and I was tired all the time.

I have now taken four bottles, and the pain and nervousness are gone. Complete natural, and tired feeling fast leaving. I sleep well nights, and the stiff joints in the shoulder are fast regaining its natural motion again.

I can see no doctor any work as usual.

I am still using the SARASAPARILLA, and expect to entirely recover from the disease. The rheumatism has been greatly relieved by it, and I am now able to walk without difficulty for many miles. I thank DANAS SARASAPARILLA DEATH TO RHEUMATISM.

Yours truly,

MRS. D. BRACKETT.

The Medicine of Inhalation has only begun to be appreciated by the world, and now AERATED OXYGEN furnishes the true and only illustration of the process by which wonderful cures are being wrought. By this natural and simple process the respiratory tract is reached to its last cell. Intensified Oxygen goes straight to where the disease is located and roots it out. It is a cure that is strictly logical, because natural. The healing balsam of its vapor bathes the diseased localities with its soothing and reviving influence. The living germs that create the poison are forced to wither and die. After that they are swept out of the system, and a condition of health ensues. Color comes back to the blood, and vigor to the nerves. The improvement becomes a transformation. Nature is now free to put in her finest work. She invigorates with a new life what was just now a waste caused by deadly germs. Catarrh, Consumption, Asthma, Hay Fever, Coughs and Colds, and in fact all diseases of Throat and Lungs succumb to the marvellous natural potency of AERATED OXYGEN. It is the new medicine of nature herself.

What is

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by millions of mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulence. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I consider it a superior to any prescription known to me."

Dr. G. C. Ossoco,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for infants and small children. By the day it is not difficult for mothers to consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loves ones, by their unscrupulous manufacturers. It grows every other hurtful agent down their throats, thereby sending them to premature grave."

UNITED HOSPITAL AND DISPENSARY, Boston, Mass.

ALLEN C. SMITH, Pres.
